

2018 BASIC CLIMBING CLASS

BOEING

EMPLOYEE'S

ALPINE

SOCIETY

The BoeAlps Basic Climbing Class (BCC) is an introduction to mountaineering.

Through classroom instruction and weekend outings students learn alpine skills such as navigation, rope skills, rock climbing, snow skills, camping, and glacier travel. By the end of the class students are comfortable planning and executing their own trips into the Cascade Mountains.

Classroom sessions are held Wednesdays from 7-9:30pm in the Boeing 2-22 Building cafeteria from early February through early June. The eleven weekend outings go from early March – early June, every weekend except Easter, Mother's Day & Memorial Day weekends, either Saturdays or Sundays. Two of the outings are overnight outings (Both Saturday AND Sunday)

Information Session: Wednesday, Jan 3rd

Boeing 2-22 Cafeteria, 222 16th Ave S, Seattle, WA 98108

Class Starts: Wednesday, February 7th, 7-9:30PM (Boeing 2-22 bldg cafeteria)

Application Deadline: Friday, February 2nd, 2018 Cost: $350 for BOEALPS Members, $450 for non-members

Sign-up Jan 15th @5am – Class size is limited. More info at www.boealps.org